FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

WARSAW, Nov. 26.

THE deliberations of the diet had passed pretty quietly till the 24th, when the declaration of the court of Russia and Prussia, concerning the Cracovia and Procrasta, being read, the assembly became very tumultuous, and many of the members demanded, with great impetusity, that the proposal of the high up of Cracovia should be read. The king, finding the members were in a great ferment, endeavored to adjourn the session to another day; but not being able to accomplish it, his Majesty retired from the assembly. Then the Prince Prim was pressed to continue the session, and the marshal of the diet went so far as to declare, in the name of his party, that he would not quit the palace till this affair was settled. This impetuosity induced the prince prim to raise likewise, upon which the members were so irritated that they suddenly left the senate, in order to go to their own place of meeting, and finding the door locked, would have broken it open by force, if some of the senators had not interposed, and moderated their fury.

The next day the king addressed the states in a speech, in which he expressed his disapprobation of the disorder which had per day before, and, after saying he should overlook it, recommended to the members to behave more decently for the future. The first object treated of was, the demand of the courts of Petersburg and Berlin concerning the plurality of voices, which was agreed to. As to affairs of religion, the king declared that he would consent to have the proposal of the bishop of Cracovia communicated to the bishops and senators for their consideration, and to have their opinion concerning it on Monday following, being the 24th instant. The prince declared, that he thought this demand of his Majesty very equitable, in which the bishop of Cracovia likewise acquiesced, but declared at the same time, that he would not in the least depart from his proposal, and almost all the senators were of the same opinion.

Nov. 28. On Monday the 24th, the proposal of the bishop of Cracovia being again read, there was not a member of the assembly who dared or would oppose it; so that it was generally approved, and afterwards signed. This proposal contains a confirmation of the constitutions made against the Protestants in the years 1717, 1719, and 1736. The declaration, it is said to come to, will be very disagreeable to the courts of Russia and Prussia. And we are impatient to know what will be the determination of those courts.

Warsaw, Dec. 1. The day before yesterday the diet sat seventeen hours successively, so that it did not break up till yesterday morning. It was then agreed that the constitutions made against the Protestants in 1717, 1719, 1736, and 1736, should be again taken into consideration, and that it should be declared to the members from the courts of Russia, Prussia, England, and Denmark, that the king and the senate would have the grievances of the protestants redressed, in case any thing had been done to their detriment, contrary to the laws, or from a misinterpretation of treaties. It is not thought that the above mentioned courts will be satisfied with this declaration, especially the two first, who exert themselves the most in favour of the protestants.

In the mean time, all the issue of this affair is known, a body of 3000 Russian troops is within two miles of this city; and the lieutenant-general count de Solikow, who commands them, is now here.

Warsaw, Dec. 6. Most of the deputies belonging to the diet are, are set out on their return home. Among the new laws there is one for restraining the authority of the two great Generals of the Crown, and Lithuania; but it is not to take place till after the deaths of the persons who now possess those dignities.

As to the affair of the Dietists, in which four respectable powers have interested themselves, it is supposed a negotiation will be soon entered upon for settling it; it will remain to be seen, whether the next Diet will ratify it. Mean while, copies are handed about of a brief from the Pope, addressed to the Prince, and the Nuncio's speech, in his public audience; both which pieces relate to the Dietists. In the first of these the Prince is exhorted to employ his care, that they may not obtain any further toleration; and, in the latter, the Nuncio labours to prove, that, in such case, great prejudices would arise to the Roman Catholic profession.

It is thought by those who are least prejudiced, that the Dietists will obtain some further liberties in regard to the exercise of their religion; but that, unless things are carried to extremity, the Republic will not be prevailed on to admit them to any civil dignities.

The Russian troops, now in the district of Cracovia, consist of two regiments of Cuirassiers, and 600 Cossacks, compelling in all a corps of 2500 men.

The Earls of Shelburne and Egmont are to be created Dukes of Ireland, which is the reason that induced the Marquis of Kildare to accept of that dignity, that he might preserve the precedence of his family as premier Duke; and the rather, as that illustrious house has always enjoyed the precedence of the Irish peerage, he being the 19th Earl of Kildare in direct succession. His Grace is now premier Duke, Marquis and Earl of Ireland, which is an honour enjoyed by no other peer under the British constitution.

The Journal of a WHISKY CURATE.

Monday. RECEIVED ten pounds from my Rectory, Dr. Small, being one half year's salary—obliged to wait a long time before my admittance to the Doctor, and, even when admitted, was never once asked to sit down or refresh myself, though I had waited eleven miles.—Item, the Doctor hinted he could have the Curacy filed for fifteen pounds a year.

Tuesday. Paid nine pounds to seven different people; but could not buy the second-hand pair of black breeches offered me as a great bargain, by Cabbage the Taylor, my wife wanting a petticoat above all things, and neither Betty nor Polly having shoes to go to church.

Wednesday. My wife bought a petticoat for herself, and shoes for her two daughters, but unluckily, in coming home, dropped half a guinea through a hole, which she had never before perceived in her pocket, and reduced all our cash in the world to half a crown.—Item, chide my poor woman for being ill-dressed at the misfortune, and tenderly advised her to depend upon the goodness of God.

Thursday. Received a note from the ale-house at the top of the hill, informing me that a gentleman begged to speak to me on pressing business. Went and found it was an unforunate member of a strolling company of players, who was judged for sevenpence halfpenny.—In a struggle what to do.—The baker, though we had paid him but on Tuesday, quarrelled with us, to avoid giving any credit in future, and George Greasy, the butcher, sent us word that he heard it whispered, how the rector intended to take a curate, who would do the parish duty at an inferior price; and therefore, tho' he would do any thing to serve me, advised me to deal with Peter Paunch, at the upper end of the town. Mortifying reflections these.—But want of humanity is, in my opinion, a want of justice.—The Father of the Universe lends his blessings to us, with a view that we should relieve a brother in distress; and we consequently do no more than pay a debt, when we perform an act of benevolence: paid the stranger's reckoning out of the filling in my pocket, and gave him the remainder of the money, to prosecute his journey.

Friday. A very franty dinner, and pretended, therefore, to be ill, that, by avoiding to eat, I might leave something like enough for my poor wife and children.—I told my wife what I had done with the shilling; the excellent creature, instead of blaming me for the action, blessed the goodness of my heart, and burst into tears.—Mum. Never to contradict her as long as I live—for the mind that can argue like her's, tho' it may deviate from the more rigid sentiments of prudence, is even amiable for its indirection, and in every lapse from the severity of economy, performs an act of virtue, superior to the value of a kingdom.

Saturday. Wrote a sermon, which on Sunday I preached at four different parish churches, and came home excessively wearied, and excessively hungry; so more money than two-pence halfpenny in the huff; but for the goodness of God! the strolling player, whom I had relieved, was a man of fortune, who accidentally heard that I was as humane as I was indigent, and from a generous eccentricity of temper, wanted to do me an essential piece of service: I had not been an hour at home when he came in, and declaring himself my friend, put a 50 l. note into my hand, and the next day presented me with a living of 500 l. a year.

We are informed, that she has brought advice, that — Buchanan, Esq; is appointed Receiver-General of the Southern Caribbee Islands, with a salary of Twelve Hundred Pounds Sterling per annum:—That a separate government would soon be established at Dominica; that the test of government, and places of public administration, were to be held at Prince Rupert's Bay:—That a detachment of artillery, with a great quantity of ordnance stores, were ready, and under orders to sail for this island, in order to fortify the different harbours; and that several surveyors and artificers were ordered out to examine Prince Rupert's Bay, a dock yard being intended to be immediately made there, for repairing his Majesty's ships; it being looked upon as a much proper place for the rendezvous of any squadron in time of war, than English harbour in Antigua.

From Grenada we are informed, that several shocks of an earthquake have lately been felt there, the smartest of which happened about 3 o'clock on Wednesday morning the 7th instant; the same and the following days the sea was remarkably high on the Bay, which has done considerable damage to several houses there, and carried off some lumber, &c.

They write from Quebec, that next spring they were in great hopes of discovering a navigable communication from Lake Superior to the South Seas, by means of a great river, which the native Indians had reported to run many leagues to the westward.

By letters from Quebec, there is advice, that the number of white settlers in Major Rogers's government of Michilimackinac, already exceeds four thousand families, exclusive of Indians, and negroes, that they carry on a large trade in furs, peltry, &c. and will soon become a thriving colony.—Amusing!

NEW-YORK, March 2.

CHARLES-TOWN, March 23, 1767.

WEDNESDAY last, being the Anniversary of His Majesty's gracious Revocation of the AMERICAN STAMP-ACT, (an Event that particularly distinguishes the Mildness and Justice of his Reign, to his faithful Subjects of America, always equally zealous in the Support of the Dignity and Authority of the Crown, as of their natural Rights and Liberties, and which will be ever remembered with Pleasure and Gratitude by our Posterity) an Affusion of Joy spread itself thro' every Rank of People here, without being attended with the least Irregularity, Disorder or Accident. The Morning was ushered in by the Kinging of Bells; all the Vessels, and even Boats, in the Harbour were decorated with Colours; flags were likewise displayed on the several Forts, whose Cannon were fired at Noon; and several Societies, Clubs, and other select Companies assembled and dined, or supped, at different public Houses, where many Toasts adapted to the happy Occasion were drank; but the largest Assembly was at Mr Backhouse's Tavern, in the Evening, where elegant Representations of His Majesty, the GREAT BRITANNIA, Secretary CONWAY, Col. BARREY, LIBERTY, &c. were exhibited, amidst a grand and general Illumination of the Town.

Last Friday Night, arrived here from Barbados, DANIEL MOORE, Esq; (a Member of the late Parliament of Great Britain, for the Borough of Great-Marlow in Buckinghamshire) but lately appointed Collector of His Majesty's Customs in this Province, upon the Resignation of Mr. BEAUFORT, since deceased; upon which Occasion all the Vessels in Port displayed their Colours the next Morning.

Yesterday arrived here from England, on his Way to his Government of New-Hampshire, to which His Majesty has lately been pleased to appoint him, His Excellency JOHN WATKINS, Esq; accompanied by Capt. Loring, of the Army, Mr. Anthony, and Lady, of Boston, &c.

This Day arrived here from Pensacola, His Majesty's Privateer B at the Anne Theresa, commanded by Capt. Valentine Dyer; and is to sail from hence for Plymouth, the Middle of next Month.

THOMAS RADCLIFFE, jun.
at his store, nearly opposite to Mr. THOMAS ADAM, Merchant in Broad Street: Amongst which are,

LONDON, September 20, 1766.

I Have appointed Messrs. CARNE & WILSON my Agents, for the sale of my MEDICINES in CAROLINA; and all persons may be supplied wholesale and retail by them.

JOHN HILL.

A List of Dr. Hill's Medicines sold by Messrs. CARNE & WILSON.

1. PECTORAL BALSAM OF HONEY. For colds, coughs, and asthma. A common cold is often cured, and all the bad consequences prevented that might have followed, by a single dose.—
These complaints are so common, that no family should be without the medicine.

2. ESSENCE OF WATER-DOCK. For
the certain cure of the scurvy, and all breakings out.
It never once failed in many thousand instances.

3. TINCTURE OF CENTAURY. A stomachic bitter, that gives a healthy appetite and sound digestion. A certain cure for all weakneses and disorders in the stomach.

4. ELIXIR OF BARDANA. For the gout and rheumatism. This restores the health after the fits of the gout, shortens such as follow, and eases the pain. For the rheumatism it is a certain cure, and the disease never returns.

5. TINCTURE OF SAGE. To lengthen
life, and keep off the decay of age; as tremblings, deafness, and all other the weakneses of an advanced life.

6. TINCTURE OF VALERIAN. For disorders of the nerves, low spirits, faintness, headaches, and all kinds of fits.

All these are pleasant, innocent and efficacious medicines, discovered by the author, in the course of his study of plants, and so safe, that infants may take any of them in a proper dose.

be brought against me, and to appear and give bail while any persons having demands against me are desired to send them in for payment.
